

James Netto acts for Dee Dawn Daley in high profile Child Abduction case

Concerns are growing for three British children, Khalid, Aasiyah and Maimunha Aljehani, who have been removed from England to Libya by their father. The mother initially agreed to the children going on holiday with their father to North Yorkshire; it has now been established that the father removed the children to Libya, where they remain.

Partner, James Netto, acts for the children's mother, Ms Dee Dawn Daley. Various High Court judges have directed the children's return, which the father has flatly ignored. The High Court has also permitted the mother to release information about the children into the public domain.
