

Top Ten Myths in International Family Law

There are a lot of myths and misconceptions about international family law issues.

Here are our top 10:

- I have to divorce in the country where I was married
- If my child's other parent refuses to allow me to relocate abroad with the children, there is nothing I can do?
- I'm okay, my same sex marriage will be recognised across the world
- My husband's foreign lawyer is dealing with the divorce and finances and all I have to do is sign
- I can pay to adopt a child from another country
- English courts cannot touch my assets abroad
- It is not Child Abduction if I go back to my home country with our child
- All orders can be enforced anywhere in the world
- England does not recognise polygamy
- Any lawyer can do family law with international aspects
